

NBA Rookies Draft - Kicks Off At Just ..... $9.98 Million Pay Day For The # 1 Draft Selection !!

The 77th NBA annual NBA draft and most young talent has traditionally come from college players but that is now gradually changing going on recent years selections . If Frenchman Victor Wembanyama does not go as the no 1 draft selection he will certainly be snapped up in the top 5 .In case you are not aware Wembanyama height is somewhere between 7 foot 3 inches to 7 foot 5 inches depending on which website is quoted. Wembanyama recently quoted "Ever since I knew about the draft, exactly how it worked, I wanted to be first," Wembanyama said on Wednesday. "I think I started to realize I could be a professional basketball player at the age of 12. Tomorrow, something's going to happen, something that I've been thinking [about] for years and years, I can't really describe how I feel right now. I just know I'm going to have trouble sleeping tonight, for sure." The answer will be known at Brooklyn's Barclays Center Aussie time which I am sure has pretty high doorways !! For punters that follow strike rates you could not really go past Rockhampton horse trainer Nick Walsh who currently has a winning strike of 50.6% this season with 43 winners from 85 runners and 16nds , 8rds. Just informing our hard copy readers there will be no paper next week but we will back on the 7th of 7th !!
