Well We Were Right On The Money Last WEEK !!

After weeks of massive uproar over an unwanted kiss involving Women's soccer World Cup champion Jenni Hermoso, Luis Rubiales, the President of Spain's soccer federation has announced his resignation. "After the fast suspension from FIFA and the rest of the open declarations against my character, it's evident that I cannot return to my position," he said in a letter regarding his resignation. "Insisting on staying and waiting and clinging to it is not going to contribute anything positive, neither to the Federation nor to Spanish football. Among other things, because there are powers that be that will prevent my return." The fire storm all started on the World Cup presentation podium and Rubiales had remained firm with comments like "The little kiss was spontaneous, mutual, euphoric and consensual," he said. "Jenni lifted me from the ground, held me close, and after comforting her, I asked her for a piquito, a small kiss, and she said fine," Rubiales said. "Do you believe I deserve this hunt? Does this deserve my resignation? Let me tell you something, I will not resign." She said in a statement in August that the "kiss was not consensual" and that she "felt vulnerable and the victim of aggression, an impulsive, sexist act," The Giants have not held back in their request for Crows fans to come and support them on Saturday !!
