Given that it currently the AFL'S Sir Douglas Nicholls Round not many would know that back in 1973, a team was assembled from the best indigenous Australians across all states and territories to tour Papua New Guinea and play against a PNG team. It was originally also scheduled to play against Nauru's National Side. In fact Sir Douglas Nicholls accompanied the All Star's side. That team had quite a mixture of players from different State leagues including Roger Rigney (SA); Michael Mansell (Tas); Anthony Miller (WA); Brian Warrior (SA); Dennis Lewfat (NT); Patrick Purantatameri (NT); Reg Mathews (QLD); Bill Ellis (NT); John McHenry (WA); Leon Wanganeen (SA); Alec Smith (Vic); John Pepperill (NT); Phillip Archer (SA); Ian Charles (VIC); Robbie Muir (VIC); Ken Liddle (NT); Wilfred Wilson (SA); Tim Agius (SA); Garry Murray (VIC); Paul Hansen (WA); Lloyd Bray (NT). Port Adelaide's AFL HIT and MISS 2025 season has certainly attracted many headlines regarding the coaching succession plan. Now many fans from all clubs are having their two bob's worth around the traps questioning is this current side far over rated or just having bad luck with injuries. Port fans are currently confused as the last sentence of the Port Adelaide FC Creed written by the legend Coach Fos Williams at Alberton clearly states—"we concede there can be honour in defeat, but to each of us, honourable defeat of our club and guernsey can only come after human endeavour on the playing field is completely exhausted."
