

Good Luck To All 2025 Finalists

The Gold Coast Suns are now in their first ever Finals round since joining the AFL in 2011. Regardless of what happens against Fremantle in Perth next week it would be extremely satisfying for many that have been involved with the Suns over the journey. Damien Hardwick has certainly added some steel to the Club and already has a 26 wins to 19 losses to prove the fact. Also former Suns Chairman Tony Cochrane (a former Sturt and Glenunga trainer) would be over the moon with the Suns finally making the finals having quoted early in the season "Everyone can say, 'Well it's about time', let's just make sure it's our time." They (Suns) have absolutely overtaken the Titans on the Gold Coast as the team of choice," he continued. "There's no question that AFL is very, very healthy on the Gold Coast from junior level all the way through. 'I'm so confident and now that I'm not an AFL official, I'm allowed to bet again,' 'I took a bet two months ago at $25,000 to 500 we would finish top four at the end of the home-and-away'"
