Social Media and Sport- No One Is Safe - Should Harmless Fun !!

Spring Racing is now in full swing and there is a $20 Million sprint race at Randwick on Saturday week, plus the race that still stops a Nation being the Melbourne Cup on the first Tuesday of November . Our form experts on page 2 are there to give you a guide thru this Spring Racing as always .Plus summer cricket featuring the famous Ashes starts on Friday 21st of November and the make up of the Aussie Team is about as clear as the current AFL trade period .Social media barbs are negative, critical comments and attacks directed at athletes and coaches, which can range from insults to threats and vilification, leading to distress and impacting the sport's culture. Players and coaches combat this by using in-app privacy tools, reporting abuse to authorities like the eSafety Commissioner in Australia, using specific hashtags like #callitout, and employing AI-powered safety apps to filter abuse. Some individuals and teams also choose to disengage from social media to focus on their performance and well-being. These pictures are just a small example of what is on social media on a daily basis, These pics in no shape or manner reflect this papers views.
